COVID-19 REALITY CHECK

Important: These COVID realities and rules are as of 28/6/2021. We will update you if things change.

- The COVID situation in Malta is pretty good. We are having between 0-6 new daily cases of COVID-19.

- People from amber countries can come to Malta and avoid quarantine if they have a negative COVID test not older than 72 hours. For EU nationals probably by the time you come to Malta, if you have the EU vaccine certificate, you would not need a negative test. You can keep updated by following this link.

<https://foreignandeu.gov.mt/en/Government/Pages/COVID-19-Info.aspx>

- If you do not have the negative test upon arrival you will be made to pay for it and you will be moved by the authorities to a quarantine hotel. The test will cost you 120 euros and the quarantine 100 euros per night. So make sure to have the test. If you do not have the test the airline might deny you boarding as well.

- During the training course, in the hotel and in public spaces the wearing of masks is mandatory. Fines for not wearing mask are around 400 euros.

- When coming to Malta you will need to fill in the 'Public Health Travel Declaration' and 'The Passengers Locator Form'. These can be downloaded from the following link: <https://www.maltaairport.com/declarationforms/>. Make sure to have them printed and filled in before going to the airport.
- A number of airlines also have similar papers that need to be filled so make sure to fill them in.
- If you have connection flights, make sure to check the COVID rules and papers needed from the country you will be connected through.
